

Vik Bangia, CEO of Verum Consulting, is a CoreNet Global Luminary Award-winning speaker, author, and strategy & operations consultant with several powerful and inspirational messages for audiences from 30 to 3,000.

Vik can be contacted at vik.bangia@verumconsulting.com for booking with your organization, or professional association.

Vik's primary inspirational talk: "The U in Truth", is an entertaining, uplifting discussion on the journey to finding one's own personal truth and the epiphany once that truth is discovered. In addition to stories from his personal life, and observations from his career in business, the presentation gives audiences the tools and a roadmap to discovering their truth. As Vik says, "There's a 'U' in Truth but there's also the Truth in YOU. Find it, and fly!"

Some of Vik's other popular speaking and workshop topics include:

"What's Your Story?" – A discussion on the power of storytelling and its application in your personal and professional life. Vik speaks on the history of storytelling, qualities of good storytellers (with examples and a short video), and qualities of effective stories. He then explains two stories that have been effective for him as a consultant: The Tie and The Bridge.

"Creating a Personal Brand" – A talk explaining how brands are a promise of the value the consumer will receive. Vik discusses corporate brands and interacts with the audience about the brands and their synonymous value. He then diffuses arguments about why people don't invest in themselves and provides the audience tools to build their own personal brand through his "12-step Process for Personal Branding."

"Using Discovery Techniques to Develop Relationships" – This is a discussion about Negotiation Psychology and building instant rapport with others. Vik outlines techniques the audience can use to guide their clients, colleagues, and even their adversaries to move from implied to explicit needs, creating the right environment for a win-win outcome.

In addition to these topics, Vik can customize a program for your corporation or professional association and is available to serve as a panel member for leading business topics such as Employee Engagement, Leadership, Workplace Change, Systems Thinking and Strategy.

When Vik speaks, audiences can expect to:

- ✓ Have fun and be entertained!
- ✓ Learn to make lasting change in both their personal and professional lives.
- ✓ Improve decision-making skills needed for their business.
- ✓ Acquire an overall sense clarity about their life's purpose.
- ✓ Leave with practical tools needed to take immediate action.
